IJR, Inc. Expands Laser Series Line

IJR, Inc. is adding more selection to its extensive range of laser cartridges by including Dell and Lexmark remanufactured cartridges into their existing product line.

These two groups include 16 new Dell series and 18 new Lexmark series compatible cartridges. All cartridges have successfully passed through quality control standards which ensures that the end user receives the same product performance as they would from OEM products.

“We are continually educating ourselves in order to stay on top of the next wave of printers and cartridges. Developing new products for the success of our dealers gives us the opportunity to stay competitive and provides us with a challenge to offer more selection. These new laser cartridges not only offer exceptional quality, but they do so at a very competitive price” said Bob Allen, president of IJR.

In business since 1978, IJR, Inc. is a provider of full-service remanufacturing and distributes a complete line of inkjet, compatible, and laser cartridges to dealer networks and outlets worldwide.
